GET TOMORROW'S TRENDS TODAY

Each season brings certain trends that will be the major money-makers. But how can you predict them? And more importantly, where will you get the tools to translate that information into profits? As a designer, manufacturer or retailer handling private label, you need to know the trends at least a year and a half in advance so you can start planning and designing your line. Accessories Directions Trend Forecasting service isolates the season's five big trends and deliveries, showing how they influence every accessory classification.
